

THE PROJECT

Objective: to contribute towards fostering the debate on the Future of Europe and to involve in it as many European citizens as possible, especially young people.

The European Convention on the Future of Europe, whose mandate is to prepare our future European Constitution, is still in the working phase.

As it now begins to produce some first results, it is for JEF the best time to involve the citizens of Europe in this debate. That's why JEF-Europe today proposes a common action framework to its sections all over Europe.

This common action on framework is based several activities, linked with each other:

- the organisation of local, regional and national debates and activities on the Future of Europe
- 2 large scale events, gathering 150 international participants and 100 locals:
 - Brussels, 29 Nov. – 1 Dec. 2002
 - Athens, 11-13 April 2003
- networking activities, composed of an exhibition, to be presented all over Europe, newsletters and an extensive website - which should present the results of the above mentioned activities.
